

Are you thinking of retiring in the next few years? If so, you are invited to attend a “pre-retirement” session organized by the McGill University Retiree Association (MURA), specifically organized for M.U.N.A.S.A. and M.U.N.A.C.A. employees at the Macdonald Campus. It will focus on the psychological/social aspects of retirement, with a brief component on finances.

MURA is an association for all retirees from McGill University that represents the interests of McGill retirees in discussions with the University and organizes events and activities throughout the year. For more information, please consult the MURA website

If you wish to view the material that will be discussed at this session, please go to the Documents page of the MURA website by clicking here. The documents are located under the Pre-Retirement Sessions for McGill Employees section.
